All but one of their chocolates are animal product and oil free. They even have a bar called 100% The Hundo that is only pure cacao and actually tastes pretty darn good, not as bitter as you would think. They also have a milk chocolate bar made with coconut milk. You can find them at their many locations in Austin at <http://www.srslychocolate.com/locations>. If you do happen to stop by let them know you heard about them through ATX Alive.
